LENYOSYS BIO REGULATION THERAPY (BRT) CONSENT FORM

The following information describes the standard practices and clarifies issues related to your BioRegulation Therapy (BRT) sessions with the Lenyo CellCom (LLC) Device. It is important that you read this form carefully and address any questions or concerns to your therapist.

BioRegulation Therapy (BRT)

BioRegulation Therapy (BRT) is a unique energy modality that uses advanced biofeedback and pulsed electromagnetic field (PEMF) technology to support biological communications at the cellular level – ultimately helping the body to better self-regulate, adapt and heal naturally.

Cellular communication is critical to the body's adaptation and regulation processes which help to maintain overall health and deal with the symptoms and causes of cell deterioration and disease. BRT combines advanced signaling technology with the body's own biological communications, to stimulate cells and expedite the natural regulation and healing processes.

BRT is a method that applies therapeutic effects through the resonance of signals governing the biochemical processes within the organism. The BRT uses low intensity electromagnetic waves (magnets). These develop their effects via interaction between the controlling signals of the organism and the signals of an on-going program of the operating device alternating the interference patterns of the same and triggering the adaptation process.

How BRT works

Every organ in the body has its own bio-electromagnetic field, and every single cell in the body communicates via electromagnetic signals, or fields, at the overall rate of trillions of chemical reactions per second. In order to maintain balance and sustain good health, all of the body's organs, tissues and subsystems require precise communications to effectively process these instantaneous exchanges. When these critical communication exchanges are disrupted or blocked, the body's cells, tissues and organs may be compromised and unhealthy symptoms follow.

A number of internal and environmental sources can contribute to the breakdown of the body's inner communication processes. These sources include chemicals, toxins, nutritional deficiencies, emotional stressors, unprocessed memories, negative thought processes, inherited and acquired blocks at the subconscious level, microbes and electrosmog – the invisible electromagnetic radiation resulting from high-power electrical lines, microwaves, computers, cell phones and other common electronic devices that, over time, may emit harmful electromagnetic fields.

During BRT sessions, BRT devices safely deliver very low intensity electromagnetic signals. These signals create gentle electromagnetic field changes that support effective biological communications within the body. More specifically, BRT signals target very specific communication channels in order to clear blockages and restore communication pathways. Once this happens, the body can more efficiently process the electrical and chemical exchanges associated with those channels and address imbalances or dysfunctions in those areas – leading to improved adaptation and natural healing.

BRT is considered a safe, non-invasive, and painless technique, which can be coupled with other forms of techniques, such as therapy or biofeedback.

LENYOSYS BRT Treatment Benefits

The LENYOSYS BRT treatment can be administered to:

- Improve general health and well being
- Aid in the alleviation of specific symptoms and prevention of imbalances and conditions
- Restore and maintain inner harmony and natural balance
- Complement traditional medical treatments for health problems following accidents and injuries, or before and after surgery.

The effect of a BRT session is similar to the physiological changes in the body after a physical workout. During the therapy session, it is recommended to be in a relaxed state without shoes or tight fitting clothes.

The Course of Treatment

An initial intake procedure is required before the treatment sessions can occur. Below, the intake procedure is described. This is followed by a brief description of the BRT sessions.

Intake Procedure

The intake consists of an interview (intake). The client first signs this consent form and will answer various questions that are needed for a successful treatment (e.g. symptoms, goals, history).

BRT Procedures

BRT is generally provided in 1 to 2 sessions per week. The duration of each session is up to 60 minutes. Depending on the findings of the initial evaluation, we may recommend to start with 6 to 10 sessions. Once these BRT sessions are completed, progress will be assessed and used to decide whether to continue this treatment.

During the sessions, BRT devices safely deliver very low intensity electromagnetic signals via surface electrodes located in pre-determined locations on the body (that depend on the protocol) and delivered by a battery-driven device. These signals create gentle electromagnetic field changes that support effective biological communications within the body. BRT signals target very specific communication channels in order to clear blockages and restore communication pathways. Once this happens, the body can more efficiently process the electrical and chemical exchanges associated with those channels and address imbalances or dysfunctions in those areas – leading to improved adaptation and natural healing.

During the session, it is recommended that you wear loose cloths and take off your shoes. You should shut down cell phone and laptops. Drinking water before and after each session is important, sufficient water consumption is essential to the efficient flow of information and healthy molecular structure in the body. The success of BRT treatment increases greatly with the consumption of good, clear, quality water in the recommended amounts:

- Two to three 8 oz. glasses prior to treatment
- One 8 oz. glass immediately after treatment
- 64 oz. daily for a period of three days after treatment

Side Effects

BRT is considered a safe, non-invasive, and painless technique, which can be coupled with other forms of techniques, such as therapy or biofeedback. No substantial injury or permanent negative effects have been reported in the BRT research literature and clinical reporting to-date.

As with natural healing modalities, one may experience an initial increase in symptoms. This can last a few days and can be similar to flu or cold symptoms e.g. headache, fever, body aches, etc. This is recognized as part of the body's healing process and is considered to be a positive sign that the body is responding to the therapy.

Adverse effects are typically well-tolerated, commonly including tiredness or slight headache especially if not hydrated. These adverse effects are temporary and resolve without leaving long-term consequences. Most of these side effects can be addressed by adjusting the treatment.

If the client notices any adverse effects, please let your provider know and he or she will make appropriate adjustments.

We do not advise this treatment if you have any of the following conditions:

- Extremely high blood pressure. Y___ N___
- Pregnancy Y___ N___

Lenyo CeliCom (LLC) Device

BRT is conducted using the Lenyo CeilCom (LCC) device. The LCC is an active non-invasive biofeedback device that captures and selectively modulates the organism's own electromagnetic field in order to help the transmission of body's own inner communications and support its recovery or balance process. It can be used to support recovery from a wide range of imbalances and help to maintain overall wellness.

LCC is a Biofeedback Class 11 Medical Device Registered with the FDA (Product Code: HCC). Lenyo Devices are not designed to diagnose or treat specific diseases, however they provide general benefits recognized for biofeedback and pulsed electromagnetic field therapy devices such as normalizing circulation, promoting relaxation, reducing inflammation, enabling the normalization of cell membrane potential, etc.

Background Information

In order to find the most effective intervention (protocol) for each client, it is essential and necessary that the client disclose his or her full medical background (including medications) and other relevant bio-psycho-social history. If requested background information is not provided, unexpected effects may be experienced.

Investigational Procedure Acknowledgment

The client acknowledges and understands that BRT is still considered experimental and is not approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The client acknowledges and understands that while Nonie Griscom Therapy LLC may believe this procedure can help him/her, there are no large-scale or long-term research studies that show this therapy has been proven effective for the intended purposes. The client acknowledges and understands that this means BRT may do nothing to relieve or eliminate his/her conditions or otherwise cure or resolve the various conditions or issues that he/she is experiencing.

Other Treatments

BRT should be performed in conjunction with any other ongoing treatment(s). The client is expected to continue with all medical treatments or therapies prescribed by his or her clinician(s) while undergoing BRT. Your doctor or therapist will be aware of,

and approve your BRT sessions. Release of information to the therapist is required. All exceptions require written permission from the BRT provider.

Treatment Alternatives

The client acknowledges and understands that there are treatment alternatives to BRT, including but not limited to therapy, prescription medications, alternative medicine remedies, or doing nothing.

Email, text messages and other electronics and social media communication

We prefer to use email and text messages only to arrange or modify appointments. Please do not email or text us any content related to your therapy sessions, as email is not completely secure or confidential. If you choose to communicate by email, please do not insert any personal details in the subject line. Because all emails are retained in the logs of your and our Internet service providers, information that you send may be accessible to unauthorized persons. While it is unlikely that someone will be looking at these logs, they are, in theory, available to be read by the system administrator(s) of the Internet service providers. Finally, any email we receive from you and any responses that we send to you may be subject to disclosure as a result of legal proceedings.

Cancellation/No Show Policy

A 24-hour notice is required when cancelling an appointment. Cancellation messages (text messages or voice messages) should be left on 561-301-5657 at least 24 hours prior to the session date and time. The charge for missed sessions and sessions cancelled less than 24 hours in advance will be the current rate per session (or deduction of one session from your package, if applicable). The client is responsible for paying this fee in full prior to commencing the following session. Nonie Griscom Therapy LLC will be unable to hold or reserve a client's day or time slots following a no show or late cancellation. Any fee change will be published at least a month before it takes affect.

Longer session times, at mutual agreement between client and therapist will be billed at a prorated hourly fee. Emergency phone calls, voice message or emails of less than ten minutes are normally free. However, communications, either by phone or by reading and responding to emails of more 10 minutes during a given week will be billed on a prorated basis for the extra time.

Credit cards and Paypal are accepted. Clients must pay for services before it is provided. In extreme circumstances, other arrangements must be made in writing and in advance. Refusal to pay a debt, may results your name and the amount due

It is important that the client understand that, with the above exceptions, the client's confidentiality will be strictly maintained.

I further acknowledge that I am fully aware that my LCC Practitioner is not a licensed medical practitioner, but rather, is trained to administer the LCC device. I acknowledge that he/she has not made any promises of any kind to diagnose, treat, cure, or otherwise address any medical issues that I may be undergoing. Rather, I have consented to experiment using the LCC on me to try to duplicate the successes that have occurred during prior use on others, realizing, however, that every person reacts differently and individually, and that these devices might not have any success on me.

I furthermore understand that this therapy is not covered by my insurance and that payment for said therapy services are expected prior to when services are provided. I may request information to file to my insurance when payment is made.
